BARNUM "DONE BROWN"

A few days since a grave looking gentleman in spectacles called and inquired if he could see the proprietor of the American Museum. On being introduced, he took him confidentially aside, and with a face of solicitous import, began

"Mr. Barnum, I have heard that you are anxious to procure all great and rare curiosities."

"Always—secure them if money will do it."

"Well sir, I have lately returned from Egypt, and have in my possession one of the most curious living specimens of natural history in the whole animal kingdom—a most extraordinary creature, which I believe is not to be found in any museum in the world."

"Describe it—what is it like?" said Barnum in a tremor of anxiety.

"I know not whether to call the monster a fish or a reptile. It is found in the warm regions of the upper Nile, and is probably common in the tropical latitudes in the interior of Africa. At first it is wholly aquatic has neither legs nor fins, but a tail like a fish and may be seen sporting at the bottom of the water. After a certain time it undergoes a remarkable change in its whole appearance. Like the fathead, it sheds its skin, and assumes a shape like a monkey with four limbs; two short and two long like those of the Kangaroo—or more resembling the Oursang Outang, the semi-human species of which, it is by some supposed to be the progenitor, as it entirely loses its tail and from this time it is like the crocodile, amphibious, and possesses other remarkable peculiarities. I succeeded in catching one previous to this transformation, which will take place in a few weeks."

"Is it possible?" Well, that is a curious really—so much so as the mermaid," said the proprietor of the Museum, in a satisfied tone, as he slipped through his fingers.

"More, my dear sir," said the traveller,
"for in the mermaid the transformation is but half completed, but the tail remains."

"Well sir—I care very little for the profit, but if you will prepare a proper tank, filled with Croton water, and kept sufficiently warm, you shall have this curious animal for fifty dollars a week, until the transformation takes place, and one hundred afterwards."

"Done!" cried Barnum. "It's a bargain!
I'll get some bills, directly," and down he sat and wrote. Tremendous attraction from Upper Egypt—the greatest curiosity in the world—the wonderful—

"What's the name of this animal?"
"Well, before it changes its shape, it is called the Pollawog or Tadpole; afterwards it is called a Frog," replied the grave stranger, looking mildly over his spectacles.

Barnum dropped his pen and stood upright, looking at the learned traveller in absolute astonishment—and an entirely new specimen of petrification.

A very Extensive Supply.

IN offering this stock of goods to the inhabitants of Newport and vicinity, I am aware that the satisfaction of making a good bargain is incomnot know that he is receiving for his money the very best returns. To give, in this case, full assurance, I will say, that whilst the above goods are too valuable to allow of being purchased at low prices than other goods in market, I will notwithstanding, sell them at such prices as cannot fail to secure a continuance of that custom which I already have so largely and so liberally received.

BY G. F. JACKSON, 97-THAMES-ST.

Advertisers will please bear in mind that the circulation of the DAILY NEWS is more than DOUBLE that of the Daily Herald, and greater than the combined circulation of the Daily and Weekly Herald. As one proof of this fact, the list of Letters remaining in the Post-Office is advertised in the NEWS, BY LAW REQUIRED.

The City.—The time is rapidly approaching when the subject of changing our present form of Government will again come before the people. The Charter will be voted upon by the Legislature, at its May session, probably, and the time of voting on the question, we presume will be fixed for some period in the same month, so that it is adopted, as it unquestionably will be, the organization of the New Government can take place at the regular annual meeting in June.

Since this matter was last agitated, our citizens have had a whole year in which to think of the matter, and investigate the subject, coolly and calmly. If the opponents of the City were honest and sincere in the position which they then took, they have had ample opportunity to obtain information, and to produce facts to substantiate their grounds; but this more wholesale talk that it will cost more than the present Government, and that it will be a burdensome tax on the people, is all a humbug to alarm the timid and excite the prejudiced, and to create a prejudice in the minds of those who are undecided on the subject, or who have been partially convinced, during the pendency of the question. If this information and these facts are not now produced, we shall all know that this hue and cry is mere windy declarations, got up for effect, without any honesty of purpose or sincerity of heart.

During the last year, a number of towns no larger than Newport, have adopted a City form of Government; and in no instance do we hear a regret in consequence of the change, on a desire expressed by any reasonable or sensible man, to return to the old state of things. And such would be the case in Newport, if the change was made, and a fair trial given under the charter.

Now all that we ask is a calm and dispassionate examination of the whole matter, and if any single opponent will produce a statement of facts, showing, in themselves, that a City form of Government will be more expensive and not more efficient than the present Town system, then we will agree to abandon our pet theories in favor of the City, and go heart and hand for the old dilapidated, worn-out and rusty Town Government. As we have previously said, on many occasions, we have great respect for those who are now in power, and we believe that they do, and have done, all in their power to have things as they ought to be; but the fact is they have not the power to do what ought to be done, and if they attempt to step out of the beaten track, they do not have the support which they ought to sustain them in their efforts.

Under all those circumstances, and considering that so many all around us have made the trial, and found it eminently successful, we say let the step be taken here, and then we shall know the truth or falsity of the positions now assumed by the friends of the City.

We despise the mean and under-handed tricks which are resorted to by the enemies of the City, and the falsehoods which are told in order to prejudice the well-disposed. Let us have the truth, as it is, and if the Town men can satisfy the public, by facts and truthful statements, that the change is inexpedient, then let things remain as they are, and let us glide down peacefully to the shades of an inglorious obscurity, and posterity will engrave upon our tomb-stone that we were so wedded to old customs and old ways, that Time finally wiped us out of the calendar, for forgetting that we had a corporate existence.

67-Eugene Company No. 1: were out yesterday, and worked their machine; they threw water over the spire of the State House, in handsome style. No. 1 is over a hundred years old, and was built in England, but she is as good as old gold.

68-News from Europe, by the Washington, is now daily expected at New York.

Dogs.—We have been requested by a large number of our citizens, to call public attention to the importance of some stringent and effective measures to abolish the privilege of permitting dogs to run at large in our streets. The Town Council was authorized, in December last, to pass and enforce a dog law; this law was made, and went into operation on the first of February last, but instead of abating the nuisance, there are just as many worthless dogs in the streets now as ever, and sometimes we think that the number has actually increased. We know of no place, of the size of Newport, where there is such an army of the canine race as in this town; our streets are completely filled with them, and our citizens are constantly in danger of being bitten by them. But a few days ago, we were passing up street, and in going by the foot of Mary street, a huge dog, about the size of a six months old calf, sprang at us, and it was with some effort that we evaded the rascal. On Sunday last, three children were bitten by different dogs, and hardly a day passes that some one is not snapped at by some of the hundreds which are constantly prowling about seeking whom they may devour. It is high time that something was done about this matter. We really hope that our citizens will not wait until some one is bitten by one of these rabid dogs, and thus an awful death caused by hydrophobia. All parents, who have little children about the streets, should act effectually in this matter. Let the matter be attended to, to-day, in Town meeting, and such a law made as shall prohibit dogs from running at large in our streets, unless properly muzzled; and then let every well-disposed person lend assistance to carry it into full and complete effect.

Let this subject be brought up to-day, in Town Meeting, and have a suitable and effective law passed, which will accomplish the desired result. The people are prepared for it, and we are satisfied, that such a law can be made.

At a whig meeting, holden at the Town Hall, last evening, the following Legislative nominations were made: For Senator, Edward Clark. For Representatives, Henry Y. Cranston, Christopher E. Robbins, Joseph Anthony, Henry E. Turner and Silas Ward.

Mr. Ward was nominated in the place of Edward King, who declined a re-election.

Our State election takes place to-day. In this town, the Polls will open at 10 o'clock, and probably close at 9 in the evening.

The Boys of France.—A letter from Paris to the New York Herald says:

The papers will inform you that yesterday the King named a new Ministry, Count Mole at its head; but this was too late. Nothing could save Louis Philippe; the people, therefore, went steadily forward with their work, fighting the troops in twenty different quarters, and forming barricades in a hundred others. From my own observation, and what I can hear, I should say that the pavements have been taken up in five hundred places to arrest the troops. In a large number of cases, I saw the persons at work who have effected this revolution. They were always without leaders, they acted without concert, but they acted with spirit, and in all quarters at the same time. And here I would say that Louis Philippe has been deposed by boys from twelve to twenty years of age. Do you doubt this? It is nevertheless true. These are the persons who have fought, bled, and died to achieve this work. Not a person of note has been concerned in leading these revolutionists; these boys, assisted by the laboring classes, and encouraged by the women, have chased Louis Philippe, backed by his 330,000 soldiers, and in spite of his fortifications, these are the powers that have chased him from the throne of France!

I am aware that this public will not believe so extraordinary a statement; but, notwithstanding, it is true; I have visited the points of danger, have seen the people who fought who barricaded the streets, and who have effected this extraordinary revolution in twenty-four hours, or less than twenty-four hours of fighting.

All bitters have a healing tendency or effect, madam, says the doctor to a lady. You will except a bitter cold morning, won't you doctor, replies the madam.

THE FUNERAL OF JOHN JACOB ASTOR.—On Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the lower floor of Mr. Wm. B. Astor's dwelling house, 32 Lafayette Place, was thrown open for the reception of those invited to attend the funeral. Great numbers of gentlemen entered, and after the people were seated, they passed around the coffin, which stood in the hall gave a glance at the face of the deceased, and then left the house.

The coffin was of mahogany, sheeted with lead lined with fine white satin, and made perfectly airtight. A small aperture and door over the face, allowed the latter to be distinctly seen through a pane of glass which was soldered into the lead. Around this aperture was a border of heavy silver like an inch wide, and the top of the coffin was surrounded with face about an inch and a half wide, almost of solid silver. From this a massive silver fringe depended of extremely rich workmanship. The exterior of the coffin was covered with black velvet, and large screws, apparently of silver, were placed at intervals of an inch along all the joints to the number of about 300. The plate was of solid silver and bore merely the name, date of death, and age of the deceased, 184 years, 8 months, 12 days.

The decorations of the coffin were designed and completed by Mr. James C. Dugan, sexton of St. Thomas's Church, who keeps directly opposite at 614 Broadway. He had the whole direction of the funeral, and credit is due to him for his wise arrangement in the matter.

At 4 o'clock the coffin was taken from the house on the shoulders of 8 men, and carried through Lafayette Place, 6th street and Broadway, to the church, preceded by the Rev. Drs. Whitehouse, Bodell, Wainwright, Anthon and Balch, and accompanied by the following gentlemen as pall bearers: Washington Irving, David B. Ogden, Philip Hone, Judge Oakley, Sylvanus Miller, Ramsey Crooks, James G. King, James Gallatin, Isaac Bell, and Jacob B. Taylor.

THE TRINITY OF THE FRENCH REVOLUTION.—The Revolution in France occupied three days. The motto of the new Republic consists of three words. Liberty, Equality, Fraternity.

The Flag of the Republic is tri-color. Red, Blue, White.

The Revolution has three aspects. Political, Social, Industrial.

It had three master spirits, Lamartine, Blanc, Barrot.

It is the last of the three Revolutions which France has known.

The Lady's Faith in Railway's Soap.—I know my face is Tanned and Freckled, With Pimples, and with Blotches speckled, Suburban and other annoying Spots, With Scum, Morphea and Salt Rheum, Upon my cuticle assumes, To reign with full authority, But, ah! my friends, I'll cure them soon, With a soap of a superior quality, Railway's Chinese Medicated Soap.

Is the name of this precious Soap: It really cures all hereinafter: Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Tan or Spots. The lady hair she spoke the truth, She found the Soap the friend of youth, And beauty now assumes its place, Upon the clear, transparent face, All ye who have upon your skin, Pimples or Blotches, Pusules or Tan, On the neck, the nose, the face or hands, Or if perchance upon your arms— And would possess angelic charms, Fear not to rest your faith and hope In Railway's Medicated Soap.

A secret which baffles the ingenuity of all who have attempted to analyze its properties, Railway's Chinese Medicated Soap. The extraordinary effects of this delicious emollient is truly astonishing, for no sooner is Railway's Soap applied to the surface, than tan, suburn, pimples, blotches, tetter and other eruptions speedily disappear. It softens, soothes, heals and sweetens the skin, and imparts beauty to the complexion of all who use it. Sold for 2s. for large, and 1s. for small, at C. Courtland N. Y. R. J. TAYLOR, Agent.

One of the most important facts of the recent progress of Science is the alliance of Chemistry with Physiology. By which a new and unexpected light has been thrown upon the vital processes of animals. For this we are indebted chiefly to the German and French chemists. We have now a clear understanding of the different action of elements, poisons, and remedial agents, and the long derided theory of the blood being the portion of the system upon which the latter should act, is now a demonstrated truth. The great object, therefore, is, ascertain what remedy will act most directly upon the constituents of the blood when in the act of combination, experience, observation, and a cloud of witnesses, Establish the fact that SAND'S SARSAPARILLA, is at the very head of this class. Cancer, scrofula, salt rheum, erysipelas, leprosy, ringworm, mercurial diseases, suppuration of the glands, swellings of the joints, and all the diseases of the muscles and tissues, together with general debility of the system, yield to this unflinching purifier of the blood, for the blood is the channel through which disease finds its way to the various organs of the body.

Prepared and sold by A. B. & D. SANDS, Druggists, 180 Fulton-st. N. Y. Sold also by Dr. R. R. Hazard and R. J. Taylor, Newport, by J. Russell, Fall River, by C. Dyer, for sale by R. J. TAYLOR.

Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co.
(Incorporated in New York)
A company organized by the System of Life Insurance, which is the only one in this country.
1. Those in good health, of the proper age, and of sound constitution, will be insured at the lowest rate of premium.
2. The premium, if over $50, can be paid one-fourth in cash, and three-fourths in a secured note at 12 months, bearing 6 per cent. interest, and subject to assessments if required, or it may be paid weekly, monthly, or quarterly.
3. Annual division of profits in scrip certificates which bear 6 per cent. interest, and if required, a loan of two-thirds on the scrip will be made in cash, or the profits can be added to increase the sum insured.
4. No person is liable beyond the amount of their premium.
5. Married women may insure the lives of their husbands, secure from any demands of their creditors, if the premium does not exceed $300 per annum.
6. Creditors may insure their debtors, or debtors themselves, for the protection of creditors.
7. An insurance can be made so that the sum insured will be paid on attaining a specified age, or so near in the event of death.
8. All claims on policies will be paid three months after notice and proof of death.
9. No risk will be taken on any one life exceeding $5000, until the surplus profits amount to $50,000; then the amount of risk on a single life will be gradually extended as the funds of the Company augment.
10. No Director or Officer can obtain a loan of the Company.
11. When the net profits of the Company amount to $200,000, the excess will be applied towards the redemption of Scrip, giving priority to that first issued; but the amount of $200,000, in addition to the reserve fund, will be kept as a permanent fund, in which the members have a permanent interest.
12. The funds of the Company to be invested by the Finance Committee in bonds and first mortgages on unencumbered real estate, the actual value of which is twice the amount loaned—or in stocks of the United States, or of the States of New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, and Maine, or loaned to members on their Scrip.
13. No part of the profits is withheld, or diverted from the assured in any way.
14. There is no stock or loan, either nominal or real, to pay interest for; the company having ample capital in the premiums received.
15. It enables a man to provide for a wife and children, in such a way, that although he may lose all, they are safe; and all persons, whether married or unmarried, to provide for old age, sickness, and want, as well as for death.
16. It does not reckon the assured a year older than he is—but from six months less, to six months more, so as to equalize the same between all parties.
17. It pays no directors, auditors, or solicitors.
18. A portion of the directors and the officers are chosen yearly, and the members vote according to interest.
19. The assured can surrender the policy at any time after a term of years, and receive its equitable value.
20. Every precaution is taken to prevent a forfeiture of policy.

The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, is authorized by its charter to make all and every insurance appertaining to or connected with Life risks, of whatever kind or nature, and will grant annuities and make endowments, as by the Act of Incorporation, passed the 30th January, 1845.
The Directors of this Company, deeply impressed with the very great, useful, and growing importance to the community at large of Life Insurance, would call the attention of the public to the following observations and principles, as intended to explain to them its peculiar advantages, and the particular features of this valuable institution. It is seen above how extensive the privileges are, reaching to every risk appertaining to or connected with life; guarding and supporting infancy to old age, in all grades of professions and trades; orphans, widows and their children, by a small annual investment, on the principle of Mutual Benefits, arising from Mutual Insurance, being a self-protective society. In this there is no Money Stock; the funds or capital arise from premiums paid in when persons make insurance, and these form the means to make payments on policies, grant loans, pay expenses, and yield profits. All persons insured become members, but are not liable beyond the amount of the premiums to be paid by them. The books of the company are open to them, to see that the sums paid, or securities received, are deposited or invested according to the charter, and the net profits, at fixed periods, are divided among them, as heretofore explained. The table of figures, and the rules, are made and calculated with accuracy, after the experience and practice of old English companies, and all persons can see by them how much they have to pay, and the gains they will be likely to receive. This plan, part of the Savings Bank and Mutual Insurance, affording the security of the one, and gain of the other, and is entirely benevolent in its operation; it also embraces a provision for Married Women to insure the lives of their husbands for any amount, the premium of which shall not exceed $300 per annum, and is secured to them against any demands in law, or of creditors.
The greatest portion of society, who by daily exertions of an industry earn support, as artisans and mechanics, deriving livelihood from personal labor and skill, seldom resort to Life Insurance, in any numbers, for a future provision for their families, though to none would it be so important as to them, who, by sickness and death, may in a day, leave those nearest and dearest to them in poverty. To men in mercantile pursuits and those in professional business of every rank and class, or those who have uncertain or small incomes, and who are most numerous in wealth in the aggregate and have it in their power to provide against the vicissitudes they are constantly exposed to, Life Insurance is also of the utmost importance; they, and those in lower circumstances, are often deterred from entering into contracts of insurance, as the advantages appear remote—being contingent on death, or ability to pay the premiums.
To assist all such, this Mutual Benefit society, so arranges the payment of the premiums, and of returns, in part of the same, as to enable all persons to become members, and enjoy its advantages while living; thus protecting themselves in life, and providing for their families after their death; in this way a short life may obtain, and leave to heirs, the benefit of a long one.
This Company will grant insurances on lives, on the Mutual principle, to applicants upon their own lives, or the lives of others, for the whole duration of life, or for a limited period, at the rates specified in the tables, for sound and healthy persons.

1. Any person in sound health may insure $5000 for life upon his own or his wife's life, or the wife upon the life of her husband, or the age of thirty years, (and in like proportion for other ages), by paying 25 cents weekly, or of $1000 by paying 60 cents weekly, the policy always remaining with the Company, with the premiums paid endorsed thereon; and in case of death they will be entitled to the amount thus insured, deducting therefrom the balance remaining of weekly payments, with interest for the current year. No risk will be taken on a single life for more than $3,000, until the profits of the Company amount to $50,000, after which, according to the profits, the amount will be gradually extended to a sum not exceeding $15,000.
The better to enable all persons to insure, this Company will annually issue Scrip certificates, of estimated profits, bearing interest at 6 per cent.—Whenever the accumulation of net profits of the Company shall exceed the sum of $200,000, the excess may be applied from year to year, or semi-annually thereafter, towards the redemption of each year's certificates of scrip, in whole or in part, as may be determined on by the board of directors, priority to be given to the scrip first issued. The insured may borrow from the Company on his scrip, two-thirds of the amount of the same at any time, which will enable him to use a portion of his profits for the payment of his annual premium, even before the redemption of the scrip. All classes of persons will thus be admitted and enabled to meet the premiums, and have the gain of the Savings Bank, with the profit on a large business, by an actual small investment or outlay of money.
All claims for insurance will be paid three months after satisfactory evidence of the death of the persons deceased is exhibited and approved.
Should it any time be desirable for a person to sell his policy, where it is for life, the Company will purchase the same at an equitable rate.
Parties insured at the table rates of premiums, are not to pass south of the Southern line of Virginia, and Kentucky, or east of the Mississippi River, between the first day of June and first day of November; but can visit any part of the United States or Northern British Provinces, between the first of November and first of June. By the payment of an extra premium, insurances can be effected by persons who desire to reside South during the interdicted time.
All persons whose lives are insured by this company, are permitted to travel on any of the regular mail routes, (within the limits prescribed in the policy) or on any of the Northern or Upper Lakes, by steamboat or other common mode of conveyance.
Extra hazardous risks will be taken on persons going out, or residing out of the limits of the policy, and embracing all parts of the world; also on all persons going to sea, and such other risks as may be specially agreed for, being more hazardous, to be expressed in their policies. The extra premiums to be computed upon equitable principles.
Insurances will be made on the lives of Military and Naval Officers, off or on duty, in time of peace, the premium to be settled according to circumstances of climate, locality, &c., as they may be more or less hazardous.
What can better illustrate the wise disposition of the Supreme Being, in the varying term of human life, than the certainty of the general laws that regulate its duration, and the deductions that arise from the contemplation of these laws operating constantly upon the human race? Life Insurance then rests upon the simple fact, that every individual of the human race has, at the period of his birth, a certain term of existence, which he will live through, or what is called the mean duration, or expectation of life at birth.
It is a question how such term of existence, or mean duration, is found. This is done simply by taking the number of years that have been lived through by a party from birth to death, and also of 1000 others born at the same time, and dying at all ages from 1 to 100 years old—the number of years thus lived by each person is added into the sum and being divided by the number of persons, the mean duration of the life of man is ascertained.
If it were found on trial, that on taking the result of the lives of 1,000 or 10,000 individuals, and deducting the mean duration, and then going through the same process with like numbers, and the mean duration of the latter differed widely from the former, it would be of no purpose to follow out experiments; but this is not the fact, and in nothing is the uniformity of the general laws of nature more powerfully exemplified, than in regulating the period of human existence. The result of experience is constant, that two bodies of individuals, each of 1000, living in the same country, and of similar occupations, have each a period of mean duration, which differs only a trifle from that of the other body. Apply this to insurance on life in the same body of persons; they pay a small sum or premium; annually, and the office, or Company, agrees to pay them annually a profit, and a certain sum at the death of each; as, by example, the average expectancy of life is found by experience, to be of a person in health of 25 years, 38 years more; and of 40 years 28 years longer; then by the tables of rates, the first has to pay $20 40, 100 a year during his life, to secure $1000 to be paid to his wife or children after his death; the second pays $32, to insure the same; then taking the gain of interest, and other items, that make up the profits on Mutual Benefits, it is almost certain the amount of $1000 insured will be much increased, when in the end it is to be paid to his heirs, all which is firmly established by the facts of experience. Life Insurance, therefore, on Mutual Benefits, is not a fictitious scheme to draw people into, for money-making purposes. Such an idea, if it exists, is most incorrect, and dissolved at once by the very fact, that this is a Mutual Benefit Company, and consequently any person taking out a policy, becomes a member by a small annual payment, and has a joint interest in its concerns, and a voice in its management.—Founded on scientific principles, exemplified by experience, its real services then to all classes of persons, who are dependent on certain incomes, or salaries, professions, mechanical skill, or daily labor cannot be denied; and it has proved essentially beneficial to the families of such in event of death, and is therefore, an institution ranking among the noblest works of benevolence in the world.
Such being the equitable and beneficial principles on which Mutual Life Insurance is established, it presents a most suitable and favorable mode of providing for the endearment and dependence of children; for what is the situation of man, who, for the gratification of his affections, permeates himself with a wife and children, and lives in the enjoyment of those social blessings, and knowing that in an instant, the connection of his life may throw them into a state of destitution? The neglect, then, of such a cheap and certain provision, is gross imprudence; for it is not mere a man's duty, to provide while he lives the daily bread for his family, than it is a graver leaving them to suffer penurious misery in the event of his death. It is then a religious as well as moral duty, to be easily accomplished by weekly, monthly, or yearly earnings—and this Life Insurance of Mutual Benefits, is the protection against such dreadful evils.

The observations and explanations above made on the principles of Life Insurance generally, and particularly the great and very superior advantages exhibited to the public by insuring in this Mutual Benefit Company, the credit which policies will give to men in trade, the gain it may be to all classes in their business vocations, and the duty of all to provide for their families, should induce every person to give this subject a careful consideration, remembering the injunction of Scripture, that "if any provide not for his own, and especially for them of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel."

Hyer's Pills.
The American Improved Hygienic Vegetable Medicine.
SAFE, CHEAP AND EFFECTIVE.—This medicine makes no pretensions to miracle, it lowers the raising of the dead, or to immense and astounding sales daily and hourly, after the most approved method of the times; but bases all its claims upon plain common sense principles, as a simple aim to nature in restoring the human system to its proper tone and action, when by carelessness or unavoidable circumstances it has become deranged or debilitated, and asks simply a faithful trial as a test of its curative properties. During the last twenty years it has worked its way into extensive use, wholly upon its own merits, by commendation from individual to individual, not having been advertised for more than twelve years till within the past few months—save occasionally in a journal of which the present proprietor is Editor. The increasing demand, however, has measurably compelled greater attention to its business, and agencies are now being established throughout the country.
A faithful trial of a half dollar or dollar package is almost certain to secure use in every family where it is introduced, where medicine is needed. The undersigned has used it in his own family for more than fifteen years—has knowledge of its approved use in many others, (for periods varying from months to fifteen or sixteen years,) as their only medicine, and knows it to be valuable in most of the complaints incident to the human system. But a long or extravagant commendation is not designed or needed here. Ten thousand mere assertions in its favor will not make it valuable, or satisfy reasonable persons without a trial; for the proof, after all, must lie in the use of it. Try it, then. Read, try, and then judge.

The Good Things of the Season.
FOR Parties, Holiday Presents, &c.
WINTER evenings and YOUNG'S Variety Store form pleasant associations for the inhabitants of Newport. There is nothing so desirable that can contribute to the comfort of all, that cannot be obtained at this store, and all as low and a great many much less than can be bought elsewhere in Newport. For example, we will attach the following prices, and every article is warranted.
Western Apples from $1.75 to $2.12 per bbl; shell-harks 52 per bushel; peanuts $1.62 per bushel; chestnuts from four to five dollars per bushel; almonds one shilling per pound; new raisins, figs, dates and currants 12 1/2 cts per pound; we sell these last named articles at wholesale prices. Prunes 20 cts per pound; grapes 25 cts; new citron 25 cts; preserved ginger $1.12 per jar; or 30 cts per pound, in small quantities; candies and all kinds of confectionery cheaper than they have ever been sold at any other store in town, at wholesale and retail, always fresh and of the finest quality; for the truth of this we wish every one to come and judge for themselves.
This is no idle advertisement merely to draw people to my store to disappoint them, but a plain statement of facts, which all may ascertain by calling. Also several kinds of Cough Candy, warranted equal to any now in use, for the cure of all kinds of complaints arising from colds.
Fancy articles and toys of every description, in any quantity, such as silk purses, pocket books, cigar cases, pocket knives, mirrors, razors, razor strops, hair, clothes, tooth, and shoe brushes, fancy work boxes, walking canes, dominoes, dice, conversation cards, French and Highland do, combs of all kinds, cologne, hair oil and pomatum; cigars, tobacco, and everything that is ever kept in a confectionary and variety store.
New sweet cider on draught or by the barrel.

Brownell's Cooking Range.
THE subscriber has just completed the invention of a new Cooking Range, to which he invites the attention of the public. This Range possesses qualities for expeditious boiling and cooking that other Ranges do not, and it occupies but a small space of room.
Brownell's Cooking Range has six right inch boilers, any two, or four of which, can be thrown into one, as to admit of a large boiler; and it is provided with a set of rings so that any size furniture can be used on it. Its Oven is large, convenient of access, and having an upward draft, it bakes evenly with a small quantity of fuel.
One of these Ranges is in successful operation at the store of the subscriber, subject to the examination of the public, who are invited to call and take a look at it. WILLIAM BROWNELL.

He also has a great variety of common Ware, for family use, which he will sell very low. He is now prepared to furnish families, and also to fill orders at the shortest notice; he also keeps a blade of ware to let for parties, &c., on the most reasonable terms.
JOHN T. STANHOPE.

Coggeshall & Bliss' Patent Cooking Range.
THE subscriber has just taken out letters patent for a new and beautiful cooking Range, to which they invite the attention of the public.
This Range may be set in the ordinary fire place, and by a simple, though effectual apparatus, the throat of the chimney may in an instant of time be opened or closed, so that the heat in summer and the fumes from cooking at all times may escape through the chimney.
Wood or coal may be used, and the evil of smoking chimneys is completely remedied by its introduction.
This Range is so constructed that it takes up but a small space, and yet it contains all the qualities of those which take up double the amount; and it being constructed as it is, the Boilers are brought in close proximity with the fire, and it consequently boils much sooner, and with a smaller amount of fuel, than the old fashioned Ranges, or cook stoves. It contains five boilers, four of which may be converted into two, by taking out a cross piece, and thus will admit of two large boilers at the same time. It also contains and Over 19 inches wide by 21 deep, which cannot be surpassed for baking.
The subscriber has one of these Ranges in operation at his store, where the public are invited to call and examine it, and if they will, they may also discover its utility. He also keeps constantly on hand all kinds of Paints, Glazes, and Cook Stoves, Tin Ware, &c., &c.

IF Rev. B. HIBBARD'S Vegetable and Bilious FAMILY PILLS are not found to be the most convenient, the best physic you ever tried, and fully equal to any recommendation of them—You do not find that one of these Pills does more good than from four to six of any other kind, every agent stands ready to receive the empty boxes and refund the money.
These Pills are recommended as being without an equal in all Bilious attacks, affections of the Liver, the Lungs, Stomach, or Bowels, caused by taking cold, or obstructed perspiration. They carry off the bile, cleanse the stomach and bowels, and re-open the closed pores of the body, thereby letting out the insupportable perspiration, through accustomed channels, and relieving at once the internal organs. Also in old chronic affections, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, &c. Mind the Directions, which go with each box.
Every agent has circulars of these Pills to give away.
Half a Pill is the usual dose, though some require One Pill, or even more. Children of one year and over, one quarter of a pill, of 7 years and over, half a pill. These Pills are purely VEGETABLE, and may be taken under all circumstances, without regard to drinks or diet.
